

Chile Tourist Grape Harvest

28 March 2018 / 06:10

Like 0 Share Tweet G+ Share

In this March 24, 2018 photo, mature grapes hang at Viu Manent vineyard in Colchagua, Chile. The South American country has been making wine since the mid-1500s, when Spanish settlers brought the first vines, and has become known for producing reliable and affordable wines. (AP Photo/Esteban Felix)

Source: AP

CURRENCY RATES

EUR 1.9558 USD 1.5932 CHF 1.6609

WEATHER FOR 05 APRIL 2018

Varna	Plovdiv	Sofia
6° / 12° C	8° / 22° C	8° / 20° C
Friday	Friday	Friday
7° / 13° C	10° / 17° C	10° / 14° C
Saturday	Saturday	Saturday
7° / 14° C	9° / 18° C	8° / 14° C

SEND YOUR PHOTOS

BTA PressPhoto encourages amateur photographers to send to BTA photo-worthy moments from all areas of life. Selected photos will be published in the PressPhoto service with the name of their author.

Requirements:

The photos should come with a brief description of the event and the participants in it.

Technical requirements:

minimum 3,000 pixels, resolution 300 dpi

Send the photos to pressphoto@bta.bg